

THERAPEUTIC COMPLEX

PROJECT: THERAPEUTIC COMPLEX

LOCATION: SANILLÉS . GIRONA . SPAIN

YEAR: 1994

The location of this tourism-therapeutic community in the Catalan Pyrenees provided a healthy setting, away from pollution and the bustle of urban areas. This is a space that invites relaxation in close contact with nature. It has been planned to remove the architectural barriers that may obstruct the mobility of residents in the complex. The project involved the restoration of the existing hotel and the development of the resort, which has three sectors. The first one is located under the terrace of the old building, where the spa area for rehabilitation therapies is located. The studios for blind and mobility-impaired people are located below this space. The second sector houses two and three bedroom homes, with no architectural barriers, using the terraces of the existing site as a base on which the project was planned. Finally, the third and final area at the end of the valley contains three and four bedroom homes, designed for people with disabilities who wish to live with their families in a suitable environment, designed especially for them.
